Dandi Daley Mackall loves God, children, words, and animals. Her nearly 500 books for children and grown-ups have sold more than four million copies worldwide. She won the ECPA Christian Book Award for Best Children's Book 2015 and multiple Mom's Choice Awards, as well as ALA Best Book, NY Public Library Top Pick, Children's Book Council Award of Excellence, and the Helen Keating Ott Award for Contributions to Children's Literature. Her novel My Boyfriends' Dogs is now a Hallmark Movie. Dandi writes from rural Ohio, where she lives with her family, including horses, dogs, cats, and an occasional squirrel, deer, or raccoon.

My granddaughter loves horses & she was struggling with reading starting into the 1st grade. I got this for her on the Kindle Fire to encourage her to start reading for pleasure - not just because she has to. With the work the school put in with her and books like this about topics she really likes, she has now excelled in reading! Another plus are the values/morales these books teach - the children are presented with a situation where there is a right & a wrong... it follows their decisions in dealing with those situations & the final outcome based on those decisions well.

My daughter loved this book. The moral taught in the story was honesty. It was a very sweet story. We only wish it was longer.

Amasing book to read love it so much. So so so amasing. Love it so so so so so much!

Book bought for granddaughter who is in kindergarten to practice her reading. She loves horses, so I figured she would love the Pony story.

I bought the Bob the Horse series of books for my first grader who is horse crazy and a weak reader. She wants to read these books and they are not too hard for her reading level. I wish there were more in the series, as horse books for early readers are difficult to find.

Little sudle religious side

Kids liked it.

Yes I think that this book was a great way to teach children to tell the truth . My eight year old read and enjoyed this book.
