The Wines Of Greece (Classic Wine Library)

Synopsis

Each of Greece's wine-producing regions, vineyards, grape varieties, wines, and wineries are explored by the country's very first Master of Wine, complete with in-depth producer profiles and maps for every one. There is a full historical account of the Greek wine industry, its wine laws, and winemaking developments, plus a discussion on the future of Greek wines.

Konstantinos Lazarakis was born in Pireaus, Greece. He studied Mechanical Engineering in the National & Technical University of Athens and Jazz Music in Aeolian School of Music. He became the first Greek Master of Wine in 2002. In addition, he received the Villa Maria Award for outstanding performance in Viticulture and the 13th Bollinger Foundation Medal ever for excellence in winetasting. Konstantinos is currently working as an Imports Manager for Aiolos Wines in Athens while he consults widely for wine producers, restaurants, and hotels, as well as writing for a number of magazines. He lives in Athens.

An excellent introduction to the wines of Greece. I would recommend that future editions expand the area covered to include the wines of Cyprus as well, since most Cypriots (and certainly most wine-producing and consuming Cypriots) are ethnically Greek.

This is an excellent and up to date review of modern Greek wines including native grape varieties, geography/climate, regions and producers. A must for anyone wanting to get serious about understanding the new wave of Greek wines heading for shores in Europe and the new world. A few photos of producers and vineyards and if it was a bit more "flashy" would have given it another star.

It is a great book for who are really into Greek wines. Useful details can be found in this book. Good,

The greatest book on Greek wines in circulation. Especially the history of Greek wines, which spans thousands of years, is presented in a fascinating way by Mr Lazarakis. It would be great to see regular edition updates, to include the latest news from the Greek vineyard.
