Independent Learning Specialized activities foster your ability to learn independently by asking you to consider three questions at strategic points: What do I know? What do I want to learn? What have

I learned?      Personal Connections      Questions engage you in making personal connections with the material through prompts that encourage multiple interpretations and personal perspectives.

Produce Language in a Relevant Context &#39;~fâ Ã ÂjVÃfÆ'Ã Â-velo!&#39; is a new activity that appears at the end of every chapter, giving you an opportunity to produce language in a real-world context. Each activity includes pre-class reflection and preparation, in-class pair or group work, and post-class oral or written follow up. You&#39;ll share your final product with your peers online. Tools for How You Learn Best NEXOS provides the tools to help you discover your learning preference (Visual, Auditory, Kinesthetic); succeed with grammar-focused support activities designed for your learning preference; use KWL (graphic organizer) charts to identify what you know, what you would like to know, and what you have learned; and share your knowledge and comment on your peers' informational posts in a protected online environment.
